Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by a woman who carries a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are situated in the female pelvis. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the female organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the system. It is for wifehood and motherhood. Most medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures. If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers, in handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Clean White Teeth

Internal vigilance is the price of good teeth. It is for you to decide whether your trips to the dentist shall be to relieve pain or to prevent tooth trouble. The way to prevent tooth trouble is to have them attended to before the trouble begins. We'll be glad to tell you what they need.

Plot for Wholesale Poisoning of Children Thought Found in Mo.

FULTON, Mo., Aug. 6.—What county authorities believe to be a plot for the wholesale poisoning of children has been unearthed at Concord, in Calloway county, and as a result two men and a woman were arrested there today by order of the prosecuting attorney and brought to Fulton to be arraigned. The persons arrested are L. O. Boyd, a farmer, his wife, Mrs. Anna Boyd, and Jefferson Woods, horse dealer.

The children whose lives were endangered belong to families whose members resided in a slender suit recently brought by Mrs. Boyd against Mr. Boyd. Boyd asked for $15,000 alleging that the suit was a device to poison the children. The jury brought in a verdict for the defendant, Jefferson Woods was released in the suit.

The first alleged attempt on the lives of the children was made several weeks ago when a package of chewing gum was found in the yard of Edward McPheters, a nephew of Judge Robert McPheters of Fulton. Less than a week ago another package of gum was placed near the gate of the McPheters' home. A three-year-old child of the family was in the act of placing the gum in its mouth when an older member of the family interfered and the gum was sent to a chemist who discovered that it was, possibly, sprinkled with strychnine. (Once since then package of gum had been placed near the McPheters' home and each of them was found to contain strychnine.)

After the second package of gum was found, the McPheters' home was watched. The playing of the gum on the premises of people in the vicinity of Concord has become frequent in the last few days and at least three more families appear to have been included in the poisoning plot. All the gum which has been found has been preserved and will be examined by a chemist.

All the families on whose premises the poisoned gum has been placed have now been fixed at $1,000 for Mrs. Boyd and $2,000 each for Boyd and Woods. All furnish bail.

No preliminary hearing will be held and the case will be docketed for the September term of court.

WILL VOTE ON STATEHOOD

The wool bill as it passed the senate makes an average cut of from 61.7 per cent ad valorem to 36.24 per cent, a reduction of 25.46 per cent from the present law, but this will be changed in conference.

The free list bill places on the free list agricultural implements, cotton bales, leather, boots, shoes, flour, lumber, salt, etc. The cotton bill makes a change out of 21 per cent ad valorem.

The senate also passed the original house free list bill, reconsidered the vote, then adopted a compromise, the most essential difference of which was an amendment providing free admission of meat products, flour and cereal products from any foreign country which admits from the United States free of duty cotton, corn, wheat, oats and certain livestock. This would apply only to Canada.

Wool Bill Compromised

The wool bill is also compromised from the house bill. The house bill proposed a 25 per cent duty on raw wool. The original L. A. Follette bill proposed 40 per cent. The compromise as passed by the senate fixed the rate at 35 per cent. It is expected the conference now being in progress will charge will adopt a rate on raw wool of about 35 per cent.

Republican insurgent senators are urging tariff revision such as the sugar, iron and steel and rubber schedules.

The senate will vote tomorrow on the New Mexico-Arizona statehood bill. The finance committee is required to report the cotton bill by Thursday. To hurry business the senate will meet tomorrow at 10. Senators Borah and Pounder will speak on the bill. The house practically has completed its program and is awaiting action on the tariff revision bill. It has sent over to the senate. The committee on expenditures in the department of agriculture will resume hearings tomorrow with Solicitor McCabe of the department as the principal witness on matters affecting the Reinsens reference board and Dr. Wiley.

ILL WOMAN JUMPS INTO NEIGHBOR'S WELL AND DIES

ALTON, Ill., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Charles Lewis, 48 years old and the wife of the president of the Illinois Glass company, committed suicide last night by jumping into a neighbor's well. Mrs. Lewis has been ill for some time and her act is attributed to this. For the last few months her family has kept a close watch upon her, and had sent for a nurse. While the nurse was absent from Mrs. Lewis' bedroom, she left the house in her night dress and went to the neighbor's home and jumped into the well.

Engineer and Fireman Hurt When Famous Fast Train Derailed

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—One hundred and twenty-five passengers on the Pennsylvania 18-hour train, which left here at 2:45 o'clock for New York, were frightened, but uninjured, when the engine, tender and baggage car jumped the track while going at full speed between Indiana Harbor and Buffalo, Indiana.

The engine and tender broke from the train when the engineer applied the emergency brakes, and leaving the rails plunged down an embankment. The train stopped with a jerk that threw the passengers from their seats, but remained upright on the tracks. The baggage car, immediately behind the tender, left the tracks, but did not overturn.

The fireman jumped when the engine left the rails and was hurt severely. The engineer stuck to his engine and went into the ditch with it. In some manner escaping serious injury, he is injured only by a broken leg, fractured ribs and a badly bruised arm and body.

The accident occurred shortly before 3:20 o'clock, when the train had gathered full speed in going down the incline from the elevated tracks in Indiana Harbor.

The total delay to the fast train because of the accident was two hours. A careful investigation failed to reveal any cause for the tender leaving the track.

TAFT'S WORKS QUOTED

While the opposition has but 21.15 per cent of the vote, the opposition has but 31.15 per cent of the vote. The opposition is comprised by Ontario and the provinces to the west. The parties are more evenly divided, there being 47 opposition and 54 government members.

President Taft's Views Quoted.

President Taft is almost as great a personality as Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the present campaign, and it is safe to say that his utterances on reciprocity will be more often quoted throughout the provinces during the coming weeks than those of Sir Wilfrid or Finance Minister Fielding.

Already extensive use of them has been made by both sides in parliament. The opposition will have several acres of billboards with them.

The views of Champ Clark and other American champions of reciprocity will figure largely in the speaking campaign, as will the opinions of British statesmen relative to the effect reciprocity would have on British tariff, reform and imperial preference.

Despite assertions to the contrary, the annexation bogey is hardly alive. But the opposition will probably renew its efforts to make use of it. The tendency of the opposition to desert from discussion of reciprocity is especially noticeable in the west. Much is being made there of the fact that the prairie provinces will not be fully represented in parliament during the next four years because the government brought on the election before completion of the census now being taken. The subsequent distribution, based upon the increased population, would have given the west additional members.

The government alleges that the conservatives are relying for success on large financial support expected from manufacturers in Canada. Tariff reformers in England and especially in the United States.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6.—Three members of the Alberta legislature today to run for the house of commons. R. C. Bennett of Calgary, W. Buchanan of Lethbridge and Dr. Warman of Pincher Creek. The former opposes reciprocity and the latter two favor it.

The Mormons, who are very strong in Lethbridge, decided at a public meeting today to come out strong for reciprocity.

The first nomination made in Manitoba for the coming Dominion election took place Saturday at Morden, in one of the border constituencies.

T. Morris leader of the Manitoba liberals, spoke today for reciprocity. He described the opposition of non-sensit of prophecies and superstitions. He was loudly cheered.

LIQUOR FIGHT ON IN GEORGIA LEGISLATURE

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 6.—With but eight working days remaining of the present session the Georgia legislature is facing the most important liquor fight since the adoption of state wide prohibition in 1907.

A bitter fight is expected over the anti-beer bill, prohibiting the handling of any beverage containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol. The prohibitionists are preparing to throw their forces to the support of the bill of Representative Hall of Macon providing for licensed beer saloons and package houses.

KILLS SWIFTHEART'S BROTHER ON RETURN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—Albert G. Butler of Maplewood, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, returned today, after an absence of a year, and in a quarrel with his sweetheart's brother, Eugene Walsh, shot and killed the latter. As Butler was walking away he was taken in charge by the Rev. James Broadhead, a Methodist minister, who took him to the nearest police station.

Butler said he expected trouble and that when he went to church this morning he carried a revolver. When he met Walsh in the afternoon, he says, they had words, and that Walsh started for him. Butler says he shot in self-defense.

ROCK ISLAND BRIDGE COMPLETELY WASHED OUT

GUTHRIE, Okla., Aug. 6.—A head rise in the Cimarron river today flooded the stream beyond the August record for many years, and took out the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific bridge at Dover. BUREAU OF NATIONAL PARKS IS SUGGESTED

Conference of Superintendents Called for September in Yellowstone

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Convinced that better results from the administration of national parks could be had by placing these reservations under a separate bureau with a commissioner at its head, officials of the interior department have called a six-day conference of all national park superintendents to meet at the Yellowstone National park, beginning September 10, to make a thorough study of the national park problem and incidentally to launch a movement for the establishment of a bureau of national parks.

Secretary of the Interior Fisher will stop off at the park upon his return from Alaska and either he or Assistant Secretary Thompson will act as chairman. Chief Clerk Ucker will act as secretary.

Although the interior department has exclusive control of the parks, other departments are interested in some of the numerous problems presented by the parks.

With the establishment of a bureau of national parks, it is said, it will not be necessary to call upon the other departments for aid.

STEEL TRADE REPORTS STILL ENCOURAGING

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Encouraging reports continue to come from the steel trade, but merchant blast furnace interests are under depression.

Sales of pig iron in all districts last week were little more than a single day's output of steel ingots by the steel corporation. The only new inquiry worthy of note in steel-making pig iron was for 30,000 tons of basic for the Sculling-Gage company, Chicago, of St. Louis. In four days, it would be only important contract pending is for 12,000 tons for the Alcherry and Cleveland works of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, for delivery during the last quarter of this year and first quarter of 1912.

Total sales in all districts were scarcely $5,000,000. The Kokomo Steel and Wire company is about to contract for its semi-annual supply of steel billets for rolling into wire rods. Its last big order was 4,000 tons from the Steel Service company. The present inquiry is for about the same tonnage.

In finished lines, current orders for miscellaneous products were well sustained and well distributed. The recent rail order for Canada was urgent, and stipulated shipments at the rate of 1,000 tons a day for a month. Rail contracts last week were about 30,000 tons, the contract for about 20,000 tons for the Southern railway being distributed among southern and eastern mills. The tendency in the matter of steel plates was followed by the placing of some larger orders for gas tanks and marine work.

Prices for wire products and galvanized sheets were also shaded, but there was less price cutting on soft steel bars. One interesting feature was the placing of orders for 65 miles of the pipe.

Although contracts for fabricated steel were for only 30,000 tons some large projects are calling for 15,000 to 20,000 tons, including 11,000 for a new building at St. Louis and $900,000 for the Field museum at Chicago.

A WONDERFUL SIGHT

As the most wonderful sight of the trip, the Cripple Creek district itself is one of the world's famous show places.

THROWN FROM BUGGY AND ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY WHEN HORSE RUNS AWAY

William C. Drennan, of 119 Osage avenue, Manitou, owes his escape from injury, and possibly death, to the fact that he was thrown out of a buggy when his horse ran away early last evening, just before the animal plunged over a wall and broke the rig to pieces five feet below.

Drennan's horse became frightened when he was driving along Manitou avenue, and he was thrown out just east of the soda springs. He escaped with a number of cuts and bruises, none of them serious. The horse kept on running down the avenue and dashed across the pavement at the Episcopal church, which is several feet below the sidewalk. The animal and buggy went over a low wall and while the buggy was broken to bits, the horse was unharmed.

Drennan is engaged in the livery business in Manitou.

ALASKAN DELEGATE SAYS "INTERESTS" MONOPOLIZING

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—Alaskan Delegate Wickersham, who arrived here yesterday to visit his son, said he would not run again for congress and that he had enough with one term. He was in charge of the navy recruiting station here.

Referring to conditions in Alaska, Delegate Wickersham said: "Capital is getting a monopoly on the great undeveloped resources of Alaska, the natural wealth of the country which should be enjoyed by all our people instead of by favored interests."

In spite of these conditions, Alaska, with her 64,348 population, had a trade last year with the United States which amounted to $20,000,000. Twenty million dollars of Alaskan gold was sent to the United States last year to purchase food and clothing and $12,000,000 worth of fish was exported. Alaska last year had a bigger cash trade per capita with the United States than any other of the possessions of our country.

Among the young men arrested are two brothers of the bride. Their sister caused the arrest of the entire party. The kidnaping party took the bride from from the home of her parents at 11 o'clock last night and gave him a will major car ride across the country, bringing him home at 3 o'clock this morning with his clothes badly torn.

The city marshal had been notified by the bride, but his frantic efforts to stop the speeding motorists were in vain.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND BIG ZOO BARBECUE AND ENJOY BATHING HOUSE

A crowd estimated at 5,000 thronged Zoo park yesterday, many of the visitors being drawn to the popular resort on account of the big barbecue and others because of the opening of the new bathing house.

More than 200 persons, many of them women, visited the bathing house, which was opened for the first time yesterday, and those who enjoyed the pool pronounced the new recreation spot the finest in the state.

The addition of a bathing house at Zoo park is one of the earliest improvements that Mr. Conklin has provided for the entertainment of his guests, and if yesterday's crowd may be taken as a criterion, the popularity of the innovation in Colorado Springs seems assured.

The gold plunge is one of the largest to be found anywhere in the west, with the exception of the natural pool at Glenwood Springs, and is 150 by 130 feet. The warm plunge is 120 feet long and 20 feet wide. Last night the pools were lighted by strings of electric lights, and another large crowd enjoyed the sport of swimming.

Competent attendants for both men and women are in charge at the bath house, which will be open both during the day and evening.

While bathing was a popular diversion at the park yesterday, the big barbecue ran at close second, and the chefs and cooks were kept on the jump throughout the afternoon, serving tempting slices of roast beef, mutton, lamb and ham.

It was a big day for Zoo park and the daily amusements that the place affords.

SENATE IS URGED TO ACT ON ARBITRATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Pressure is being brought to bear on the senate to favor the arbitration treaties between the United States and Great Britain and the United States and France. The only hitch appears at the present time is the fear of the senate that some of its treaty-making prerogatives may be endangered by the new conventions.

This is denied by Secretary of State Knox. "While the scope of the treaties just signed," he said tonight, "has been enlarged to include questions of vital interest and national honor excepted in the treaties now in force with France and Great Britain, the relations of the senate to the arbitration proceedings remain the same as in the case of the treaties now in force."

Both the president and Secretary Knox are highly optimistic of having the treaties ratified before the adjournment of congress.

LOCAL SHOWERS PROBABLE DURING PRESENT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Cooler weather will continue throughout the present week and local showers will be numerous, according to the forecast issued by the weather bureau tonight.

The forecast says: "There will be no unreasonably warm weather in any part of the country during the coming week. The temperatures will average nearer below the normal."

The principal barometric depression to cross the country during the week is now forming over the western plateau region; it will cross the middle west about Wednesday and the eastern states Friday or Saturday.

ONE RAILROAD ALREADY ADVERTISING CONGRESS

The Burlington railroad has already begun its campaign, advertising the International Dry Farming congress, to be held here in October. General Passenger Agent L. W. Wakeley has designed two forms of display advertisements for papers with which his company has contracts. Copies of these have been received at Dry Farming headquarters. They are to be carried once a week in weekly papers and on Tuesdays and Saturdays in daily papers. The first ad runs the weeks of August 7 and 21. It is devoted to a boost of the Big Horn Basin and Yellowstone Valley, irrigation schemes and carries four lines announcing special rates to the Dry Farming congress. The other ad runs the weeks of July 31, August 14 and 28. It is headed "Learn the Science of Dry Farming," and gives details regarding the congress and how to get there over Burlington lines from Montana, Wyoming, South Dakota and western Nebraska.

DR. SAMUEL GARVIN TALKS AT CASCADE CONFERENCE

Owing to the delay through railroad washouts in various sections of the country, many of the delegates to the second annual Rocky Mountain conference of the Missionary Education movement, scheduled to begin at Cascade on Saturday, were unable to reach the resort until yesterday. Accordingly the business to be transacted by the conference was delayed 24 hours and did not get well under way until yesterday.

DR. SAMUEL GARVIN

At the opening sessions of the gathering, addresses were made by Dr. Samuel Garvin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Colorado Springs; Dr. H. B. Miller of Kansas City; Miss Frances Patterson of China and others prominent in the missionary education movement. The opening address Saturday night was delivered by Dr. R. M. Donaldson of Denver, who spoke on "A Vision of Service."

McCLURG IS BUSY WITH BIG LAND SHOW PLANS

Mrs. Gilbert McClurg and Dudley McClurg have returned from New York city and are spending the rest of the summer at their home on Cascade avenue. Mr. McClurg is still in New York arranging the big land show in November that he is managing for some of the railroads of the country. Mr. McClurg has secured the famous Mormon choir of Salt Lake City as his big attraction. He planned for a time to have the Midland band of this city in full Indian uniform as the chief musical organization at Madison Square Garden, but now has abandoned the idea. He is negotiating with two New York musical organizations, the Nathan Francis orchestra, and the Franz Kaltenborn orchestra. Franco led the Broadway orchestra here one season, but since that time has become one of the conductors at the Metropolitan Opera house. Kaltenborn was Santa Seida's first violin and concert master and now has an orchestra that has been playing this summer in Central park. The mountain states will be well represented at the exposition. Denver business men are taking charge of the matter for Colorado. Wyoming has selected as his a space as Colorado, and Idaho and Utah both will make a best showing.

From the Boston Globe. Practically all of the transportation systems of New England are under the control and management of men who have been brought here from the western states. But the same may be said of New York. Every railway line of importance that has its terminus in that state, except the Pennsylvania, is under the management of a western man.

THE ALL-SEEING EYE

Pastor Russell Again Presents Bible Teachings in a New Light.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Notwithstanding the summer season, Brooklyn's Bazaar was crowded today. Pastor Russell, took for his text the words of the Prophet David: "Wither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there." (Psalm cxxxix, 7, 8). We quote: "The evolution theory and higher criticism of the Bible have today fostered unbelief to such an extent that everything intangible is doubted. Beginning with the college professor and the majority of the educated ministers this skepticism has embraced the wealthy, who are saturated with the blessings of prosperity. To these heaven and heavenly things seem as remote as compared with present joys and pleasures. And their present attitude is one of doubt respecting everything connected with the Bible. They well know that outside the Bible there is nothing but guess work, and they prefer their own guesses to those of other people. Very many of them speak candidly and tell that they are agnostics, that they are uncertain and would like to be informed respecting the future. A very similar condition is prevailing among the poorer classes and the uneducated."

The World's Need—A God. The effect of all this loss of faith in an Almighty God is seen on every hand and is felt by many. One of the consequences is that the religious element of man's nature is becoming numb and the masses, rich and poor, are seeking a substitute in pleasure, as the apostle's words foretold, they are "lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God." Additionally, many of the wealthy carry on a kind of brigandage along commercial lines. Desirous of imitating them, but unable to do so, others are filling the world with violence to an extent that is alarming to everybody. There is no security in elaborate and costly police protection life and property would be far less secure in civilized lands than amongst the heathen. With all the protection afforded by telephone, telegraph, police, etc., our officials tell us that they are often bewildered in their attempts to preserve law and order.

Many learned men believe that there is no other God than nature, and many of the unlearned are following their lead. They reason that nature served them as both father and mother, that nature is pitiless, unsympathetic, cruel. It is time we see the truth of the statement, "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God." The creeds handed down to us from the dark past declare that God is everywhere present—omnipresent. This is as unthinkable as it is foolish and unscriptural. Taking advantage of this error of "orthodoxy," the adversary has turned away from a belief in a personal God. The result is the absurd view which has taken hold of some otherwise intelligent people, to the effect that good and God are synonymous. Hence a log of wood that is good for something is said to have good in it and, hence, to have God in it—drift, a piece of iron, a bed, a chair, thus faith in a god of nature and chance takes the place of faith in the God of the Bible, who dwells in heaven and whose intelligence and power extend throughout the universe. In thousands of ways of which we are only learning through electricity, radioactivity, etc., besides angelic messengers that can come and go like the wind (Hebrews i, 7, 14).

But the undermining of faith in the God of the Bible has been accomplished largely by the misrepresentation by many clergymen and religious leaders of the Bible's teaching. Our text, for instance, is supposed to teach that God is in heaven with the saints, rejecting with them and that he also is in hell with the unsaintly, looking upon their suffering and tortures and planning with devils for their everlasting continuance. Thinking minds are rejecting such nonsense, but alas, they are rejecting the Bible, too, having no foundation for a better, truer faith.

Is This View Unorthodox?

The word "orthodox" signifies "correct in doctrine." I admit that my presentation is not the ordinary one, but I claim that it is correct—it is the true doctrine of the Word of God. Then it is orthodox, in the highest sense of that term, and everything to the contrary, being opposed to God's Word, must be unorthodox.

What Christendom needs today is a return to the Bible, an investigation of its teachings and a rejection of all

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. human creeds which are admittedly more or less defective. Let us accept the Bible as the only standard. Let us study it and understand it to the extent of our ability. Let us fellowship as Christians all who acknowledge its divine authenticity and who, in harmony with its presentation, are trusting in Jesus as their Redeemer; and who, in acceptance of his invitation, have forsaken all to be his faithful followers. The masses known as Christendom are unchristian in every sense of the word. They are civilized heathen.

More than this—shall we say it?—the majority of professed church members, so far as we can understand their sentiments as privately expressed and publicly declared by the ministers of their choice, are no more Christians than are the Jews. They neither believe the Bible to be the Divine Revelation nor do they accept the Lord Jesus Christ as the world's Redeemer from sin and death. Of course, therefore, they do not consecrate their lives to sacrificially follow one in whose redemptive work they do not believe.

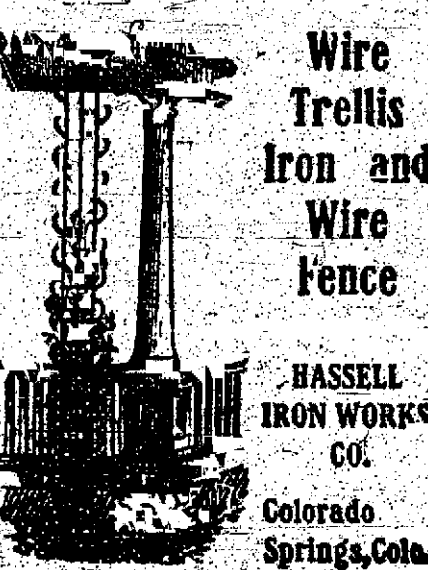

The fault lies largely with many of the clergy who are not leading the people to the faith once delivered to the saints, but away from it. It is true that all who really believe in the Bible who believe that Jesus left the glory of the Father and gave his life, thus providing the redemptive price for all men, should proclaim these facts clearly, positively. They should declare, as do the scriptures, the second coming of the Redeemer and the establishment of his kingdom, a divine power for the putting down of sin and the lifting up of mankind to glorious privileges of restoration with a just penalty against every form of sin, and the second death as the penalty for wilful, persistent disobedience.

THEY HAD NO WARNING

From Harper's Weekly.

Two young employees of a florist in Indianapolis, who were supposed to be variously employed in the rear of the establishment while the boss looks after things in the front, were recently startled by the appearance of the "old man" while they were engaged in a game of checkers.

The proprietor was justly indignant. "How is it," he demanded, "that I have to go in to find my old man at work when I come out here?"

"I know," explained one of the youths, "it's on account of those rubber checkers on which he is playing."

What the Press Agents Say

HUMAN INTEREST DRAMA AT MAJESTIC

Woman's infidelity to man is seldom countenanced by man, is often punished, and never forgiven. But man's unfaithfulness to woman is often judged with more leniency. For woman, after all, does sin less and is quicker to forgive—yes, and even make a sacrifice for the erring one.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham have arranged to go to the opera, but at the eleventh hour Mrs. Graham gets a headache, and persuades her husband to go himself. Mr. Graham leaves for the opera, but misses it by a few moments. So he returns home to discover his wife's infidelity. He sees her in the garden with Mr. Norton, his neighbor. He realizes that she has forgiven him, and he is home just for this purpose. In anger and pain at the sight, his first impulse is to kill both, and he goes into his house to obtain his revolver. While on this errand, however, he meets his little daughter just about to retire, and stops to chat with her. The child, in their talking, enters the heated heart and calms it. He remembers, suddenly, that the false woman is his child's mother, remembers many little things which in his rage had no place in his mind, and he determines to follow out a different course in meeting out punishment to the sinners.

Norton has ruined his home, he will ruin Norton's. So he goes to Mrs. Norton and tells her of her husband's infidelity. He tells her he is determined to wreak vengeance upon the tempter, and that she has but one alternative of preventing his shooting her husband on sight. She must elope with him within an hour. The woman, suffering from the blow of her husband's faithlessness, acts like a true woman. Her heart, quaking at the thought of his death, she is still true woman enough to sacrifice herself for his well-being. She consents to meet Mr. Graham in an hour.

Norton returns home and is met by his accusing wife, who demands to know where he has been. He sees at once that the woman has been deceived, and explains the whole matter. She is so much affected by the story that she is left in a state of confusion. She is left in a state of confusion. She is left in a state of confusion.

This is the story of "Her Way," the exclusive first-run play, which the Majestic is offering this week, and it is a feature of a program of high class vaudeville that is bill of enjoyable features. The stellar attraction is the great military act of the T. S. A. Boys, which is one of the biggest acts in vaudeville. The list includes also Phenomena, the vocal mystery; Mort Fox, the Hebrew comedian; Mann and Frank, in a comedy oddity; the Majestic orchestra; and an attractive orchestra program, including a solo by Alfred Jagger.

THE BATTLE TONIGHT

"The Battle," a modern drama by Cleveland Moffett, will have its first production in Colorado Springs at the Opera house tonight by the Jorch Stock company. "The Battle" was originally produced by Wilton Lackaye, who starred in this play for two seasons with great success. "The Battle" will be presented four nights only with one matinee, Wednesday afternoon. "The Battle" is a play of the "war" type. It is a play of the "war" type. It is a play of the "war" type.

Cleveland Moffett, until he had "The Battle" produced, was unknown to the public at large, except for a few magazine and newspaper articles. His drama of "The Battle" has brought him into prominence as a man who knows his subject and deals with it without prejudice or partiality. "The Battle" will appeal to all classes for it tells of all classes. Wilton Lackaye declared it one of the finest plays he has ever had the honor of appearing in.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

From the New York Mail.

A new family moves in next door the old boy and the new boy climb up on the fence to get acquainted and it is done as follows:

"None of your business—what's yours?"

"None of your business. You are."

"So are you."

"Don't talk back to me!"

"And don't you to me!"

"I'm an awful fighter when I'm mad."

"And I'm awfully when you are!"

"I've got a dog."

"And I've got a goat."

And five minutes later they are good friends.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

SHOW DAY TOMORROW

Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Circus Will Arrive on Four Trains

FIRST SECTION AT MIDNIGHT

All New Parade Will Leave Grounds At 10 o'clock—Best Performance Ever Presented

Greatly enlarged and improved since its last appearance here, the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. circus will exhibit tomorrow in Colorado Springs. The first section of this long and splendid train will reach the city soon after midnight. The other four trains will follow as closely as possible. By 10 o'clock ten miles of canvas will be raised and everything will be in readiness for the day's festivities.

After the unloading and the building of the canvas city, the parade will leave the grounds at 10 o'clock and pass over the usual route. It will be three miles long and a panorama of wonders gathered from every corner of the earth. Over 1,000 men, women and children, 500 horses and hundreds of strange and wild animals will be seen in the procession.

The downtown ticket office will be located at the busy corner. Reserved seats and admissions can be bought there at the regular prices. This office will be a convenience that the public cannot fail to appreciate. It will save the annoyance of trying to squeeze through the vast crowds around the ticket wagons.

PLACE CARDS FOR WEDDINGS

Many new ideas there are to be had for the looking. Fashionable stationers keep designers busy and one is always sure to find something new.

PLEA FOR PLOWSHARES

Benjamin Franklin.

Let us now forgive and forget. Let each country seek its advancement in its own internal advantages of arts and agriculture, not in retarding and preventing the prosperity of the other. America will, with God's blessing, become a great and happy country.

SCHOOL FOR COACHES A REALITY

ILLINOIS TO TEACH 'EM THE ART

Six Weeks' Course in Baseball, Football, and Track to Be Given During the Summer

URBANA, Ill., May 7. George Huff, director of University of Illinois athletics and famous college baseball coach, has a new role as director of the new university school for athletic coaches. To inaugurate the novel school in the summer session of the university this year, Director Huff will abandon scouting for the big league minor and devote himself to the working out of the new plan.

The school for coaches is the result of a conviction by President James that there is a demand in high schools and colleges for men qualified to instruct in athletic sports. In the old days the coach was considered a necessary evil, but his position has changed. High schools presently seek instructors, asking that they be men who can give part of their time to coaching.

Accordingly, Director Huff has planned out a six weeks' course, in which the students will be taught to play the games, their lives and instructed how to impart their knowledge to college and high school pupils in the most scientific way. Women as well as men will be welcomed as students.

Real Coaches to Teach. The Illinois coaches, Zuppke in football, Gill in track and Jones in basketball, will compose Director Huff's faculty. Sidney Caner, a former track athlete, will have charge of playground work. Illinois field will be the "laboratory." Here is the "curriculum."

Baseball. Coach Huff. Theory and practice in hitting, base running, proper methods in fielding, teamwork and coaching methods, study of the rules, methods of indoor practice, lectures and practical work.

Track and field athletics. Coach Gill. Instruction and practical demonstration in starting, sprinting, distance running, hurdling, high and broad jumping, pole vaulting, shotput, discus and hammer throw, practical talks on methods on preparing contestants for different events, adaptations to individual peculiarities, rules of competition, study of physical condition, including endurance, speed, fatigue, and all means of training for condition, promotion and management of and officiating at games and races, lectures and practical work.

Football. Coach Jones. Instruction with the idea of fitting men to coach. The course will cover passing, goal throwing, dribbling, team play, how to condition a team, and the different styles of play used by leading coaches, lectures and practical work.

Course in Football. Football. Coach Zuppke. Theoretical, rules from the standpoint of coach, players, and officials, several styles of offense and defense, with consideration of their special strengths and weaknesses, generalship and strategy; practical training condition and equipment for players, punting, drop kicking, place kicking, kickoff, and forward passing, tackling dummy and charging sled, special drills for linemen, ends and back, following the ball, interference, and teamwork, fundamental and freak plays and signal systems and lectures.

DEFEAT INEVITABLE

No Action Yet on Postponing Challenge; U. S. Changes Practice Fields

LONDON, May 6.—No official action has been taken so far with regard to postponing the challenge sent this year by an English team for the polo cup held by the Meadowbrook polo club.

Today's Times says: As the gate for the struggle approaches and news arrives of the condition of training the doughty players who have thrice defeated us, a vivid recollection of the past form and achievements of the Meadowbrook team rudely shatters the hopes which a natural sympathetic feeling has led us to indulge in. Apart from the question of the players, there are few who expect that the ponies at Baron Wilmour's disposal will be able to hold.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The scene of the polo activities preparatory to the international challenge cup matches next month were shifted today from Meadowbrook N. J. to Long Island where all future practice games between the candidates for the American team will be held. Tentative plans presented by Harry F. Whitney, the coach, call for games at the grounds of the Meadowbrook polo club association, and the field on the Phipps estate at Westbury.

LONDON, May 6.—E. M. Baerlein today won the British amateur court tennis championship defeating Joshua Chalmers of Boston in straight sets in the finals at Queen's club. The score was 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

THE CLAIM that there is no money in the fight game also reminds us that there is no money in baseball.

HISTORIC CHILDS CUP FOR GAR MEET

Peabody, Columbia and Princeton to Race Saturday at Princeton

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—The historic Childs W. Childs cup, which was first competed for by crews from Princeton, Columbia and Pennsylvania in 1879 will be one of the trophies awarded the winner of the race between crews from the same institutions next Saturday at Princeton. The athletic association of the University of Pennsylvania, present custodian of the cup, at its meeting yesterday granted the rowing committee permission to place the cup up for competition at Saturday's race.

Originally the cup was awarded to four-oared crews, Pennsylvania winning in 1879, 1882, 1883 and 1894. Columbia in 1880, Princeton in 1881 and Cornell in 1885. There were no races for the trophy after 1885 until 1898 when eight-oared crews from Pennsylvania and Cornell competed the latter winning. Not until 1912 was the cup again rowed for. In that year Columbia finished first, Princeton second and Pennsylvania third.

There was no race for the trophy last year and Columbia returned the cup to Pennsylvania.

CRW BUSY AT WORK AT WASHINGTON

SEATTLE, Wash., May 6.—Hiram B. Conibear, director of aquatics at the University of Washington, has begun sending the varsity eight-oared crew over the four-mile course on Lake Washington in preparation for the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next month.

"In laying on all the work the men can conveniently handle," said Conibear today, "I try to get in a 20-minute row every night and two or three times a week shall take them over the four-mile course. I'll ease up a trifle for the Lake Washington regatta May 22 but after that we'll go in for the last spurt of training before the regatta race."

Twenty men are eligible for the Poughkeepsie trip and from these 11 will be chosen to go east.

Thomas W. Murphy was the heavy favorite with 24 entries. Walter R. Cox has 16 and F. F. Geers 14.

PARIS, May 6.—The French boxing federation, the principal authority in ring contests in France which for a time refused to recognize "Jack" Johnson as the heavyweight champion of the world, today accepted his claim to the title.

The management of the fight between Johnson and Frank Moran of Pittsburgh, which will take place on June 27, has been assumed by Theodore Vienne, a prominent member of the boxing federation. The Velodrome d'Hiver where the bout will be, provides for 25,000 seats and standing room for 4,000.

"The writers describe it with such a dearth of slang."

Bill is a magnificent pastime, but the ball player cannot play ball always. His muscles get stiffened up after ten or fifteen years of hard service and then he loses his cunning. Of course, as in everything else, there are exceptions.

The golfer can take up the game as a boy and play it practically the rest of his life. The business man derives great pleasure in closing down his desk for the afternoon, knowing that he is going to have a pleasant 90-0 on the water.

The game can be played during a night of the week or any day. To be sure, it is much easier to play when it is a Sunday.

You must be a good player.

The two will take back no championship belt, but they have cracked enough course records in America to fill a warehouse.

A certain well known golfer tells an interesting story of how Ray and that Outmet would be within three strokes at the finish.

The visit of Ray and Vardon has promoted talk in golfing circles of hosting annually a series of interna-

"Of course he's a self-made man," said Mr. Elliott. "I'm very fond of self-made men. The only

"How is that?" said the man pleased with what he thought a complimentary answer.

New Order Of Flagellants Castigates Golfers

Royal Game of St. Andrews Survives Iconoclastic Attacks on Tees, Mashies, Divots, Brassies and Four-somes--Last Excursions on Links with Golf Immortals.

BE BILLY MURPHY.

Although the late Mr. Andrew Lang preferred ghosts and other psychic things as raw material for his pen, he occasionally made very beautiful excursions into more prosaic literary fields.

And, indeed, the glamor of his life raised the most commonplace subjects towards the region of supernatural.

About golf, for instance, of which the iconoclastic game he appears to be somewhat unwilling victim of the latter class (this is his own characterization), he throws a new haze of mystery in the course of a murderous attack upon it.

As a direct result of his anatomization, the order of flagellants has arisen with the purpose in mind of scourging golf and its adherents.

According to these iconoclasts, the game can't be learned, the golfer being born instead of made.

The critics avow that intellect is wasted on it.

The patient study of books and diagrams and the muscular distortion grotesquely known as "form" practiced by professionals, is time absolutely thrown away.

These idol-shatters point out that the great Ray declares that golfers play the game too seriously.

"Forget your brains, toss out the business and just hit the ball--that's the fellow that plays the game," says Ray.

"The great players today don't rely on the brain, precise tactics--they just view the land, grasp your club and take a poke at the ball. They must rely on luck a great deal. The fault I most notice among amateurs is the ceremony taken to play the game. I would advise you to forget brains and just hit the ball."

The iconoclasts pat themselves on the back after hearing Ray's comment and say, "I told you so!" They then go on to assert that the essentials for the game of golf are an empty head and a good temper.

Neither of these can be attained through mental or manual training.

INTELLECTUAL ARE NOT GREAT GOLFER.

Students are never good golfers. Intellectual people rarely so, say the iconoclasts.

And for fear the "average" will attempt in this to excuse his own deficiencies, the new order of golf critics point out that golf isn't a full-grown ball in the contemplation of holes.

It is a mere mashie, divot, brassie, etc.

Golf survives the smelling of the "average" being "hanged out by the neck" and a good result will follow.

The naughty condescension with which the "borey man" is wont to regard the propinquity of the duffer of the alley and the schlarri on top, will be changed to respectful admiration.

The inter's hopeless game is therefore a bridge of intellectual superiority.

The nineteenth green his appearance will be listened to with a contribution of back with a decent pretense that they were earned, not found. But there are other sides to this great game than the one which is presented by the iconoclasts.

When a game in fifteen years moves from 50 active participants to a roll call of at least 250,000, it must be a fairly pleasing occupation and of some interest to at least a few folks.

It is estimated that nearly $30,000,000 is spent on golf in the United Kingdom alone each year and that of this huge sum only a little less than half, or $15,000,000 goes to the clubs.

In the United States, the estimate has been made that $2,250,000 is spent for golf balls, $925,000 for clubs.

Each golfer's expenses are placed at over $100 a year. The way fares and other ways of reaching the links are impossible of compilation.

GOLF IS GREATER GAME THAN BASEBALL.

Did you ever stop to think what a really great game golf is? Baseball is a magnificent machine, but the ball player cannot play ball always.

His muscles get stiffened up after ten or fifteen years of hard service and then he loses his command. Of course, as in everything else, there are exceptions.

The golfer can take up the game as a boy and play it practically the rest of his life. The business man derives great pleasure in closing down his club for the afternoon, knowing that he is going to have a pleasant round on the links.

The game can be played during a rainstorm or on a fine day. To be sure, it is much more fun to play when the sun is shining.

You may go out with a heavy burden on your mind, but after playing a few holes, you cast aside your care and put your heart and soul into the game. Then the exercise gets its value.

Loos, knees, fingers, hands, arms, feet, all of the body comes in for exercise.

Golfers all know that nowhere will you see such swimmers of nature as the Scottish game affords. The trees, ponds, valleys and verdant meadows make pleasant vistas.

An article in a golf magazine is complete without at least a passing mention of the golfers' year to Ayr or to St. Andrews, the British champions.

The two who take the golf championship belt, but they have cracked enough to be given the honor to Bill a Vardon.

As one contemplates the even and wonderful sweep of their game, day after day, even more of the course, the wonder grows that the American, Francis Ouimet, was able to check their match.

We are willing to bet that the two Englishmen this year will be there in the championship, but there isn't an amateur in America with the exception of Francis Ouimet, and but two professionals could beat him in a match.

The Englishman who kicked him out of the championship on the eighth hole.

ENGLISHMEN MUST CONSIDER OUISET.

A captain will never tell a player that he is a champion and Vardon felt about his championship, just after Ouimet had lost their match. The playoff was scheduled for the following day.

"I was looking in with them," said Francis Ouimet, "when Ray said, 'Vardon and I should have a little for this bally day.'"

Vardon replied Vardon, "I should have a little for this bally day." "I should have a little for this bally day," said Ray.

Ray said, "I should have a little for this bally day." "I should have a little for this bally day," said Vardon.

Nothing official has been announced regarding the movement, but it is reported that one of the leading golf clubs in this country is referring the idea to the British golf authorities and that an offer already of a cup has been made by the American club.

British golfers, both men and women, have at times during the last ten years played more or less frequently in American tournaments and Americans have made still more frequent appearances in England, but the contests have lacked the well-defined arrangement which would be brought about by competition along the lines of the Davis Cup series.

The women golfers attracted unusual attention this year on account of the visit of the English women.

It was a very pretty spirit of honors, just as if it had been made to order--that Miss Gladys Ravenscroft and Miss Muriel Dodd made of their invasion of the American continent. Miss Dodd won the Canadian championship at Montreal and several weeks later at Wilmington, Del. Miss Ravenscroft won the national championship of the United States. It was the one real opportunity England has had to cheer in a year of athletics that has been singularly successful one for the United States.

Between Poets.

Two poets sat having a frugal glass. "I wish Burns and Poe were with us tonight," said one. "We could have a ruckering time."

"I'd rather have Croesus here," said the other. "He could buy a few drinks. Those other fellows wouldn't have a cent."

Tame Reading.

"Football may be a great game, but I don't enjoy reading about it."

"Why not?"

Lot of Luck.

Howard Elliott, the president of the New Haven & Hartford Golf Club, was talking at a luncheon in New York about a new golf course he had been planning to build near his home.

"I should like to build a golf course," he said, "but I don't know where to find the money."

"How do you mean?" said the man placed with what he thought a complimentary association.

The Fool.

"I have been thinking of a well-known man who was once a journeyman and who was now a master."

"What?" said the traveler. "You know everything except that you are a fool and I know that."

don't fit it.

STATE DEPARTMENT AGENT FREED BY HUERTA.
 Left to right: Dr. Edward Ryan and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, from a recent photograph made in Mexico City. Dr. Edward Ryan, special agent of the state department of the United States government, who was held a prisoner by the federal troops at Zacatecas and was reported sentenced to death as a spy, has been ordered released by President Huerta and given safe conduct to Vera Cruz.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"IN THE MOONLIGHT"
 Producer Thomas Rickette of the American has given patrons of that product a two-part subject. "In the Moonlight," which has many delightful light effects and artistic settings. The story has a sad ending, but the effect is lightened by the careful avoidance of gruesome details.
 The cast is exceptionally strong. Miss Greenwood, in the part of Mary

Langton, brings out strongly the disappointment of a young woman, flushed with health and hope, who is deceived by the wealthy broker, George Lytton, a married man, to whom she has given her affections, ignorant of the fact that he is a man of family. George Lytton, the unscrupulous character of the story, has an able counterpart in George Field.

Mary Langton is visiting at the home of her married sister, Dora Westley.

where George Lytton, Dora's broker is also a guest. He is a man of fine appearance and great personal magnetism, and prides himself on his conquests among the fair sex. Dora omits to tell Mary that the rich broker is a married man and Mary gives her heart to him before the truth is disclosed.

On a beautiful moonlight night the pair take a canoe trip on the river, and Mary acknowledges her love. Learning after the trip that Lytton has deceived her Mary sharply rebukes her sister for the oversight. As the introduction and, with an overpowering revelation for the man, she immediately quits her at his home and leaves heartbroken for a tour of foreign lands.

Years pass and Lytton has forgotten the incident. His son Frank has grown to young manhood, and Sunshine, Dora's daughter, has arrived at the age when she gives her first house party. Dora invites Frank for the occasion and also his father. At the same time she receives a letter from Mary, who advises her that she is on her way to see herself and Sunshine once more.

Frank arrives a week before his father, and in that time is thoroughly captivated by Sunshine's charms. The girl reciprocates his advances, but Frank has not yet proposed. At this juncture Mary Langton arrives, and learning that Frank is the son of the man who deceived her, she plans revenge.

Mary's charm of manner aided by her physical beauty is employed to win Frank's favor, and the boy, unskilled in love affairs becomes a captive.
 George Lytton now arrives, and is seized with consternation as he learns of his son's infatuation because he can see Mary's motive. He implores her to spare his son, forgetting that he had showed no mercy in Mary's case. But his pleas have no force to move the woman whose heart has already decided that Frank is not for her but for Sunshine. Then he takes another trip in the old canoe down the river with the moonlight shining just as sweetly as on the other night long ago but she is alone. And as we gaze we catch our last glimpse of the canoe creeping out of the shadows of the reeds, and it is empty!
 The picture will be shown at the Empire today.

THE "SIX-AND-SIX" PLAN
 Emphatic approval of the "six-and-six" plan of school organization is given by the United States Commissioner of Education. The plan, which divides the elementary school into two sections of three years each, is being adopted by many states.

was expressed by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education. "I know of no valid reason for the present plan of eight and four years of school," declared Dr. Claxton. "There should be six years of elementary school and six years of high school, the high school period being divided into two sections of three years each."

"There are many reasons for the change. Children 12 and 13 years old are at the beginning of the transition period between childhood and youth. They should not be kept doing elementary work. At present the pupils in most school systems work time to a large extent through the seventh and eighth grades. This is especially true where the methods of the elementary schools are carried through them and the children are taught by women grade teachers. With a six-year elementary school it is possible to introduce various forms of vocational work two years earlier than they are now begun.

"Our secondary school work is now at a great disadvantage as compared with the work done in the Gynasien and Realschulen in Germany, the Lycees, of France, and the so-called public schools of England. By giving six years to the high school, the boys and girls who go to college may easily have, on admission to college, a much larger amount of mathematics, languages, and other subjects than they now have. I feel quite sure that by an arrangement of this kind and a little more care in the preparation and selection of teachers you may gain for most children two years in the twelve."

"The division of the high school into two sections of three years each will make easier a second differentiation of work at the end of the first three years."

"At present only about one-fourth of the children enter the high school. The compulsory school age in most states corresponds quite closely with the elementary school period. Parents and children are thereby confirmed in the idea that the elementary education is all that is needed. Besides, the break between the elementary school and the high school at this time suggests leaving school and makes it easier. If the break came at 12 or 13 the great majority of children would be in the high school, doing high school work under high school conditions, and probably a much larger proportion of them would continue in school than under present conditions."

attitude of the strikers in regard to the strike. It was suggested that since the strikers had struck at night, it was with the hope and expectation of winning the strike.

Presented Serious Problem

The argument was advanced that the state labor commissioner's report shows the mines of Colorado running at almost normal, both in output and number of men employed. The inference was taken that, with such a situation, which now is being afforded the strikers, they could continue to work their property on just about the same scale as before the strike.

A next step on the part of the union, therefore, directed toward winning their strike, presented a problem which Colonel Lockett and Major Lockett consider a very serious one, and one which would be extremely difficult to solve.

Waters, Flagstaff Arrives

The 2nd Cavalry regiment from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., arrived at Flagstaff today. The regiment was en route here early today bearing equipment. Colonel Lockett has been in flag by union leaders to present the strikers' case to the local law enforcement officials. The strikers are being urged to accept such a plan by representatives of the local community. Colonel Lockett said that the latter a "live question and we" which will not "take much long litigation."

It was determined today by Colonel Lockett and his staff to take certain actions to the federal law enforcement officials. The strikers are being urged to accept such a plan by representatives of the local community. Colonel Lockett said that the latter a "live question and we" which will not "take much long litigation."

Trains Sent to Wait

Trains E and F of the Fifth Cavalry were today under control of Captain E. P. Orton, who will command the 11th. In talking to the strikers, he said that the strikers' action will be taken as a definite action. He said that the strikers' action will be taken as a definite action. Long, Trouble

Colonel Lockett contemplates a protracted stay of his troops in the strike fields. From his own observations and from reports submitted to him by his officers, he has concluded the situation in Colorado is serious. He said that the strikers' action will be taken as a definite action. He said that the strikers' action will be taken as a definite action.

world would laugh, should this come to pass. General Villa reiterated his belief in the good will of the American people toward Mexico.

"After all," he said, "our interests are mutual. A boundary is only an imaginary line of political import. Socially and economically, the Rio Grande has never proved a stiff barrier to the nations separated by it. I believe that all enlightened Americans take this stand. I know I do."

Much in Sovereignty

"However, there is much in sovereignty. The Mexicans would remain Mexicans. Just as the Americans would remain Americans. For that reason we Mexicans would defend our country to the last. I take the liberty to say that before a war between the United States and Mexico would be started, few Mexicans would be left alive. It is not every American who believes this, yet I dare say that Americans who have lived in Mexico will agree with me that the Mexican boy is his country as much as the man of any other race. He would not be a good citizen if he did not."

"But I am now and always have been for peace." General Villa told of the efforts he was making in preparation for an effective campaign against Saltillo and San Luis Potosi. He dwelt on the fact that the majority of the 15,000 men he reviewed yesterday were mounted and spoke enthusiastically of the fine character of their mounts.

Villa's Plans for Future

The next move in Villa's war plans, it is said, depend somewhat on the developments after the arrival of General Carranza, who is expected tomorrow. Hundreds of box cars for transport of troops have been commandeered and are being loaded with arms and ammunition.

Our Story

For seven months prior to Mr. Blanton's sudden death in September, 1914, he had been engaged in building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city.

He had received $250,000 in the way of building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city.

You see, it's a very big project, the Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city.

His idea of building a new rapid transit system has since been developed to a stage where the original grounds for security have been established; make an interesting story and we are going to tell it to you in these columns.

We're going to tell you how this company, since Mr. Blanton's death, has accomplished these things.

On the 1st of the month of January, 1915, the Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city, and had been building the new Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the cars in the city.

It was the first of the new lines that have been built and the improvements that have been made in the city.

We've got a great big human organization on our cars and in our shops, the biggest body of men working for any single industry in this town, and we're going to tell you about them, too, and the way they have helped us solve some of our problems.

We're going to tell you how we came to take up the building of our own cars, and how we build them; how we get practically the same body of men to work for us year in and year out during the heavy traffic of the tourist season; what this season means to us financially; why we charge a double fare on the Canon, Broadmead and Manitou lines, and the investigative work we are doing now to see if there is any way we can reduce those fares and still meet expenses.

Oh, there's a lot of things we're going to tell you about! And we want you to discuss them with us.

Write us letters. Tell us what you think about our street car system, and if you've got any suggestions for improvements in service, send them along. We will be glad to consider them, and if they are practical, we'll be more than glad to put them into effect.

MINE WORKERS REPEL ON

COLORADO STRIKE TODAY

INDIANAPOLIS, May 7.—The special committee, appointed to draft a policy to be followed in Colorado mine strikes, expects to make its report to the international executive board of the United Mine Workers tomorrow.

BOY, AMMONS IS SCORED FOR STRIKE POLICY

Gold, 38 months and were two or three times as numerous as they have been during the brief military occupation of the coal fields in the present strike. Already the debts contracted by Governor Ammons total almost $700,000.

Resolution Will Appear.

There was some further debate, in which the militia and Senator Tiorney were attacked in turn. More parliamentary maneuvering was followed by a roll call, with the tie vote. The resolution will appear on the journal tomorrow.

The house, in the meantime, engaged in a vigorous clash over the bill for a $1,000,000 bond issue to pay the expenses of the militia. A motion to strike out the enacting clause was finally killed. B. A. Sweet offered an amendment, providing that the money raised by the measure should not be used for paying any militiamen who were enlisted after the general withdrawal of troops from the strike zone, or any militiamen who ever served as mine guards or detectives, or any man connected with the Ludlow battle of April 20, until he had been exonerated by a court-martial. With this resolution before it, the house passed up the bill until tomorrow.

Throughout the afternoon session there were signs of an intention to learn something definite about the personnel of Troop A and Company B, the "home guard" companies, which have aroused much comment since the Ludlow fight.

In the senate Harvey Garman secured the passage of a resolution requesting the governor to furnish names and other information regarding the two bodies. A similar resolution was introduced in the house by Mrs. Agnes L. Riddle. This resolution went over under the rules. In the meantime, however, the house had appointed a committee consisting of Representatives McCarty, Kennedy and Woods, to wait upon the governor and the adjutant general to ask for the desired data.

The governor late today told the committee that he would furnish the roster of any part or all of the state militia.

STRIKERS MAY NOT GIVE UP THEIR ARMS

ultimate attitude of the strikers in regard to the soldiers. It was suggested that since the union men had struck last September it was with the hope and expectation of winning the strike.

Presents Serious Problem.

The argument was advanced that the state labor commission's report shows the mines of Colorado running at almost normal both in output and number of men employed. The inference was taken that with federal protection, which now is being afforded the operators, they could continue to work their property on just about the same scale as before the strike.

The next step on the part of the union, therefore, directed toward winning their strike, presented a problem which Colonel Lockett and Major Holbrook consider a very serious one and one which would be extremely difficult to forecast.

Entire Regiment Arrives.

The entire Eleventh regiment from Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., has arrived the last train reaching here early today bearing equipment. Colonel Lockett has been besieged by union leaders to permit the reconstruction of the Ludlow tent colony, destroyed by fire during a battle between strikers and militia April 20, also he had been urged not to grant such permission by representatives of the coal companies. Colonel Lockett considers the matter a "live question and one which will necessitate much investigation."

It was determined today by Colonel Lockett and his staff to make certain exceptions to the general disarmament proclamation. Express messengers, bank tellers, sheriffs and a reasonable number of deputies and police will be given permission to have arms in their possession, no house-to-house search is expected to be made for arms in possession of citizens. Colonel Lockett informed his officers today that 11 guns, the property of operators were waiting collection at the various coal camps in this county.

Troops Sent to Walsenburg.

Troops E and F of the Fifth cavalry were dispatched to the Walsenburg district today under command of Captain E. P. Orton, who will cooperate with Captain Smith, in charge of the district. In talking further of the relocation of the Ludlow tent colony, Colonel Lockett suggested that he might take no definite action until he had conferred with Secretary Garrison concerning it. The colony site at Ludlow is situated topographically to command all ways of ingress to the mine camps. There the strikers would be thrown in constant contact with the soldiers and with strike breakers who come and go from the coal mines. Should the camp be rebuilt there, however, it would be the advice of Colonel Lockett's staff that a heavy guard of soldiers be placed in the colony as a protection to the strikers against possible molestation, so that the strikers themselves would have no occasion to bear arms.

Long Stay Trouble.

Colonel Lockett contemplates a protracted stay of his entire command in the strike fields. From his own observations and from reports submitted to him by his officers, he has concluded the situation in Colorado is extremely grave and one which will necessitate extreme vigilance on the part of the troops to prevent a resumption of hostilities. He stated today that his command, instead of being lessened in the immediate future, would be strengthened and that probably the troops would remain in the district until the strike was permanently settled.

Beginning Our Story

For more than a year prior to Mr. Stratton's sudden death, in September, 1902, he had been engaged in rebuilding the local street railway system. Like all he did, this work was being carried out in a thorough manner regardless of expense, or whether the town could or could not support such a system as a paying investment.

He had invested $2,000,000 in this enterprise, but much in the way of building side line extensions and securing new equipment remained to be done. Consequently, when the executors of his estate took over this unfinished investment, there were grave reasons for wondering whether it could be made to pay.

You see, this company's predecessor, The Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Company, operating the same main lines, had been bonded for $500,000 and stocked for half a million more. Yet it had, at times, difficulty in paying its running expenses, and had accumulated an indebtedness approximating $150,000 which Mr. Stratton paid.

How Mr. Stratton's ideas in building up this property have been carried out, and how his unfinished investment has since been developed to a stage where the original grounds for anxiety have been eliminated, make an interesting story—and we are going to tell it to you in these talks.

We're going to tell you how this company, since Mr. Stratton's death, has accomplished these things:

Completed and opened the Institute line; built the Spruce street line; built and opened the Central street and Cemetery street lines; replaced 30 pound rail with 65 pound rail on Tejon street and "C" street.

But we are not going to confine ourselves in these talks to the mere recital of the new lines that have been built and the improvements that have been made in service.

We've got a great big human organization on our cars and in our shops—the biggest body of men working for any single industry in this town—and we're going to tell you about them, too, and the way they have helped us solve some of our problems.

We're going to tell you how we came to take up the building of our own cars—and how we build them; how we get practically the same body of men to work for us year in and year out during the heavy traffic of the tourist season; what this season means to us financially; why we charge a double fare on the Canon, Broad, moor and Manitou lines, and the investigative work we are doing now to see if there is any way we can reduce those fares and still meet expenses.

Oh, there's a lot of things we're going to tell you about! And we want you to discuss them with us.

Write us letters. Tell us what you think about our street car system, and if you've got any suggestions for improvements in service, send them along. We will be glad to consider them—and if they are practical, we'll be more than glad to put them into effect.

43,000,000 Red Cross

Seals Sold Last Xmas

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Results of war waged against the white plague and plans for the future were outlined today at the opening sessions of the annual meeting of the National Association for Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. In the last decade the association's executive office reported there had been established 2,500 consumptive fighting agencies in the United States. There were less than 100 in 1901.

Medical examinations of 1,000 cases not only was humane but was good business. It was asserted. The executive office of the national association reported that 4,000,000 Red Cross Christmas seals were sold last year a gain of 1 per cent over 1912.

The Helian chamber of deputies has passed a bill granting a pension of $50 francs a year for miners 55 years of age who have worked 40 years in a mine.

be chosen. Counselor Robert Lansing of the state department is busy with his duties at the department and may not be spared, but if arrangements can be made to take care of his work he may be selected. Henry D. White, former ambassador to France, is another who is being spoken of as a possibility. O'Shaughnessy Arrives

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former charge d'affaires at Mexico City, arrived today to give his account of events leading up to the receipt of his passport from General Huerta and his enforced departure from the Mexican capital. He saw Secretary Bryan only a few minutes and deferred his report to the president and to Mr. Bryan until tomorrow.

Reports from the Brazilian ambassador at Mexico City stated that a trainload of American refugees 500 to 600 in number left Mexico City for Vera Cruz in two sections yesterday evening. The Mexican dictator permitted a guard to accompany the train. Among those on the train was Dr. Edward Ryan, the American who has been under arrest on charges of espionage and who was released in deference to strong representations on the part of the American government.

Concerned About Silliman

Equally strong representations have been made in behalf of John R. Silliman, American vice and deputy consul at Saltillo, whose disappearance at San Luis Potosi has been a source of anxiety at the state department. Both the Brazilian ambassador and the French charge d'affaires have visited General Huerta to request assurances concerning Mr. Silliman. General Huerta assured both that orders to protect the missing consul had been sent to the federal commander at Saltillo. He is out of from telegraphic communication from the capital and is perhaps in the hands of the constitutionalists. The orders the diplomatic mission might not reach their destination.

In the senate, Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the committee on military affairs, introduced a resolution authorizing the president to increase the regular army above the present statutory limitation of 100,000 men. In time of war when war is imminent or on other occasions of grave national emergency requiring the use of the regular army.

Grave Condition Exists.

The resolution also stated that at the present time there exists a condition which may at any moment require the fullest and most effective use of the regular army of the United States.

tion which may at any moment require the fullest and most effective use of the regular army of the United States.

Senator Chamberlain stated the bill was not the result of any conference with the president or the secretary of war.

A significant evidence of military preparedness came from Colonel Goethals, governor of the Panama canal zone, who reported to the war department that detachments of troops had been stationed at many points along the canal at Gatun, Pedro Miguel and Miraflores to protect the locks against possible disturbance during the Mexican troubles.

Notwithstanding the fact that Carranza will not be represented by delegates at the mediation conference it was authoritatively stated that the plan which would be presented by the mediators covers the pacification of all Mexico. The elimination of Carranza is considered by the mediators. It was said to have simplified matters.

CAUCUS CALLED TO EXPEDITE MEASURES

Drastic Bill Proposed to Prevent Manipulation of Railway Stocks

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Democratic leaders in the house anxious to get congress out of Washington by July 10, today called a party caucus for Tuesday to expedite consideration and passage of the anti-trust bills on the administration program.

It is probable that the bill will be put to a vote within the next two weeks. A bill to control railway stock and bond issues, carrying drastic provisions for prior federal approval of new railroad capitalization and for publicity all along the line was agreed upon and reported today by the house interstate commerce committee. This measure is framed as an amendment to the interstate commerce law and is safeguarded against being interpreted as a federal guarantee of securities by a specific disclaimer. It would affect every railroad and other carrier engaged in interstate commerce.

The committee's report, submitted by Representative Adamson of Georgia, the chairman, said the proposed law could be enforced by injunction against unlawful conduct and by judicial punishment of violators of the law.

Prevents Stock Manipulation. "As to persons who practice wholesale speculation and manipulations in stocks and bonds known in the past as magnificent wreckers of railroad systems," the report added, "we have left the punishment in the discretion of the courts. It is thought proper to leave to the ingenuity of the courts the full limit of human ingenuity in inflicting punishment on those who injure commerce and the country's prosperity by crippling the great systems of transportation."

Pointing out that it was understood the judiciary committee was not dealing with the directors of railway companies, the report said a provision had been included in the bill to prevent common directorates and management except when peculiar conditions render it necessary the interstate commerce commission may sanction such duplicate officeholding. The bill provides for personal guilt and penalty provisions against officers who issue stocks and bonds without lawful authority or who violate the proposed law against applying the proceeds of stocks and bonds to improper purposes.

AGGRESSIVE ACTION AT TAMPICO MEANT DEATH TO AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Butler complaints by representatives of American oil interests at Tampico, who died on Secretary Daniels today and charged the navy had failed to protect citizens of the United States and their property at the besieged Mexican port caused the secretary to issue a formal statement today reviewing the operations of the naval officers and justifying all steps taken up to the present time.

Mr. Daniels asserted that the course of the government had made it possible to bring all Americans out of the Tampico district at safety and that the first of its ships had been to protect lives that although property interests had not been disregarded.

Throws Light on Situation.

The statement threw light on some of the circumstances that have guided the department in its actions and announced that Admiral Mayo refrained from sending his ships into the river at Tampico to bring out Americans only upon the urgent request of the British naval commander who asked that for the sake of all foreigners he be allowed to take out the Americans.

The American vessels were withdrawn from Tampico in the first place, the secretary said, because it was thought the presence at Vera Cruz would be essential. Later he explained it could have been possible for Admiral Mayo to have gone into the river with his ships to rescue refugees.

Even if it had been possible, however, the statement underlined the danger of the ships available to the United States. It is not in the hands of the British navy commander who asked that for the sake of all foreigners he be allowed to take out the Americans.

France Is Friend of United States in Mexican Crisis

PARIS, May 8.—(Friday)—State-ments published in the United States that French opinion concerning the Mexican situation is hostile to the United States have brought forth protests in the French press, the most authoritative of which appears in the Figaro today, from the pen of Gabriel Hanotaux, president of the Franco-American committee for the development of political, economic, literary and art relations.

The noisy manifestations in certain newspapers, says M. Hanotaux, originate with certain interests, but generally the vast difficulty with which the United States is faced is perfectly recognized here. France has large material interests in Mexico and desires an end of the anarchy and the establishment of peace and security, which is exactly what the United States is trying to bring about.

It is thoroughly understood that no regime in Mexico could be established or last without the approval and to a certain extent the help of the United States.

CARRANZA MOVES HIS HEADQUARTERS SOUTH

Rebels Follow Up Their Recent Successes in Central Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, May 7.—With the departure of General Carranza from Torreon Chihuahua has fallen from its position as provisional capital of the Constitutionalists. Every department of the constitutional government located here will depart within a few days to seek temporary quarters in Torreon, Monterrey and finally Saltillo, when the constitutionalists shall have captured that city.

General Carranza plans to make Saltillo his temporary capital until the constitutionalist troops march into the city of Mexico. Until Saltillo is captured and neither General Carranza nor his cabinet nor officers of his army will concede any doubt that it will fall to the Constitutional chief with only temporary quarters. The treasury department however will remain at Juarez where it has been located for many months.

Immediate steps are being taken to place Torreon, Monterrey and Saltillo in close touch with the American border. Arrangements have been completed to finance the temporary replacing of the famous Saltillo bridge on the Mexican National railway which was destroyed by the fleeing federalists. Engineers have announced that the masonry bridge was only partially destroyed and that it can be made to carry traffic by means of a temporary trestle. With these repairs made Carranza will be in close touch through his agents in Eagle Pass and San Antonio with the inferno of the South American negotiators at Neuquén, Patagonia.

PROF. MOORE TO CONTINUE LATIN LECTURES MONDAY

Series on Poets to Be Given Mornings
Last Night's Address was on Greek Religion

Next Monday Dr. Clifford H. Moore, exchange professor at Colorado college from Harvard university, will continue the course on Latin poets at 8 o'clock a. m. this being the first of a series of lectures on Vergil. In the evening a lecture on "Religious Philosophy After Aristotle" will be the fifth of the course on Greek religion.

"Religion in Athens of the Fourth Century" was the subject of last evening's lecture by Prof. Moore. The tragic poet, Euripides, formed the connecting link between the religious movements of the Fifth century and the philosophy of the Fourth. The first to transplant philosophy to Athens was Anaxagoras of Clazomenae and he was later banished from the city on a charge of impiety. The natural philosophy however, made its impression on men's thought and his great service was the introduction of mind into philosophy as a formative principle.

But he was only one of the earlier leaders in a new intellectual movement that of the Sophists. These men became prominent in the latter part of the Fifth century as professional teachers of the "higher branches." They questioned the possibility of actual knowledge and were often frankly agnostic. Like them, Socrates turned his attention to man and his conduct but he emphasized the necessity of cultivating virtue, which he identified with knowledge. Believing that virtue was most profitable for the individual and that each man desires the best for himself, virtue he said, when recognized would be sought. To the Sophists truth was subjective. To Socrates it was objective based on the universal reason.

The greatest pupil of Socrates was Plato. His thought was shot through and through with Greek and Euripidean doctrines. He taught that the idea was permanent but all individual expressions were transitory. That the soul was immortal and partook of the nature of the absolute. In view of this latter belief the soul of man will ever strive for the good and only in the righteous life can true happiness be found. The highest good is like-ness to God. Apparently the souls of men ultimately return to God probably without loss of individuality. For the first time we find the teaching of a transcendent and immortal God and an immortal soul.

Aristotle the son of a physician was early interested in natural history. He was for 20 years a pupil of Plato. His chief contribution to philosophy was the concept of God as the first and final cause. Mind is the source of all activity but pure thought is also the final cause for it receives the end toward which all creation is tending.

Plans Are Complete for a Welfare Bank
Object to Stop Loan Shark Operations

After several months of delay and the rejection of various proposed plans the committee from the Ministerial association on the social welfare bank has made arrangements whereby anyone desiring small loans may obtain them at the rate of 1 per cent a month and not fall prey to the loan sharks. A local bank has agreed to make loans at this rate provided the committee will furnish a man to investigate the safety of the loan. When the plan for providing such a man is worked out the name of the bank will be announced and the system put into practice. The final details will be arranged at a meeting of the committee next week.

Yesterday in speaking of the proposed system the Rev. Samuel Garvin, chairman of the committee, said:

The New Baby is World's Wonder
Every tiny infant makes life a perspective wider and brighter. And whatever there is to enhance life, its arrival and its growth and comfort the expectant mother should be given attention. Among the real helpful things is an external abdominal application known as Mother's Friend. It is so well thought of by women that most drug stores throughout the United States have it in stock. It is a simple and reliable remedy to relieve the strain on ligaments and the nerves. In a little while are described more fully the many reasons why Mother's Friend has been a friend indeed to women for more than two generations. The book was prepared by a woman who has experienced it to enable so many women to have at hand the timely hints, sure and safe, and helps in connection with the child. It is a ready reference book to be had at almost any drug store. If you fail to find it write us direct. A free book will be sent to you. Write to R. A. Co., 23 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Georgia.

Series on Poets to Be Given Mornings. Last Night's Address was on—Greek Religion

Next Monday Dr. Clifford H. Moore, exchange professor at Colorado college from Harvard university, will continue the course on "Latin Poets" at 8:40 a. m., this being the first of three lectures on Vergil. In the evening a lecture on "Religious Philosophy After Aristotle" will be the fifth in the course on Greek religion.

"Religion in Athens of the Fourth Century" was the subject of last evening's lecture by Prof. Moore. The tragic poet, Euripides, formed the connecting link between the religious movements of the Fifth century and the philosophy of the Fourth. The first to transplant philosophy to Athens was Anaxagoras of Clazomenae and he was later banished from the city on a charge of impiety. His natural philosophy, however, had made its impression on men's thought, and his great service was the introduction of mind into philosophy as a formative principle.

But he was only one of the earlier leaders in a new intellectual movement, that of the Sophists. These men became prominent in the latter part of the Fifth century as professional teachers of the "higher branches." They questioned the possibility of actual knowledge and were often frankly agnostic. Like them, Socrates turned his attention to man and his conduct but he emphasized the necessity of cultivating virtue, which he identified with knowledge. Believing that virtue was most profitable for the individual and that each man desires the best for himself, virtue, he said, when recognized would be sought. To the Sophists truth was subjective, to Socrates it was objective, based on the universal reason.

The greatest pupil of Socrates was Plato. His thought was shot through and through with Orphic and Pythagorean doctrines. He taught that the idea was permanent, but all individual appearances were transitory, that the soul was immortal and partook of the nature of the absolute. In view of this latter belief, the soul of man will ever strive for the good, and only in the righteous life can true happiness be found. The highest good is likeness to God. Apparently the souls of men ultimately return to God, probably without loss of individuality. For the first time we find the teaching of a transcendent and immortal God and an immortal soul.

Aristotle, the son of a physician, was early interested in natural history. He was for 20 years a pupil of Plato. His chief contribution to philosophy was the concept of God as the first and final cause. Mind is the source of all activity, but pure thought, conscious, is God. This supreme mind is also the final cause for it conceives the end toward which all creation is tending.

It was at this time March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done." Plans Are Complete for a Welfare Bank Object to Stop Loan Shark Operations

After several months of delay and the rejection of various proposed plans, the committee from the Ministerial association on the social welfare bank has made arrangements whereby anyone desiring small loans may obtain them at the rate of 1 per cent a month and not fall prey to the loan sharks. A local bank has agreed to make loans at this rate, provided the committee will furnish a man to investigate the safety of the loan. When the plan for providing such a man is worked out and the system put into practice, the final details will be arranged at a meeting of the committee next week.

Yesterday in speaking of the proposed system, the Rev. Samuel Garvin, chairman of the committee, said:

"The rate of 1 per cent a month may at first seem high. It is, in fact, however, that at present there are no loan banks in the United States making loans of this character, that is, small loans, at a less rate of interest. The usual rate charged by loan sharks is from 2 1/2 to 5 per cent a month.

"Experience has shown bankers that loans of small amounts absolutely cannot be handled without a loss at least rate than 1 per cent a month when allowance for certain losses, which always occur, are made.

"Banks in Colorado may charge any rate of interest they may get, but loan officers are restricted to a fixed maximum rate. For this reason many loan sharks have named their institutions banks, thus enabling themselves to charge exorbitant rates of interest.

"Our purpose in securing the 1 per cent a month rate for Colorado Springs small borrowers is to remedy conditions rather than to prosecute any of the money lenders operating here. We wish to make conditions such that those men in Colorado Springs who are lending money at exorbitant rates of interest cannot carry on their business."
